About us

Located in Melbourne on the traditional lands of the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin Nation, the Royal Women's Hospital is Australia's first and leading specialist hospital for women and newborns. We offer expertise in maternity services, neonatal care, gynaecology, assisted reproduction, women's health and cancer services. We advocate for women's health in areas that have long been overlooked or stigmatised, including abortion, endometriosis, family violence, female genital mutilation, menopause, women's mental health, sexual assault and substance use in pregnancy.

Our vision, values and declaration

The Women's vision, values and declaration reflect our promise to our patients and consumers, and articulate our culture and commitment to our community and each other.

Our vision is 'Creating healthier futures for women and babies'. Our values are:

Courage

Passion

Discovery

Respect

The Women's declaration reflects the principles and philosophies fundamental to our hospital, our people and our culture.

- We are committed to the social model of health
- We care for women from all walks of life
- We recognise that sex and gender affect health and healthcare
- We are a voice for women's health
- We seek to achieve health equity

Our commitment to inclusion

The Women's is committed to creating and maintaining a diverse and inclusive environment which enhances staff and consumer wellbeing, and nurtures a sense of belonging. We strongly encourage anyone identifying as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander to join us. We offer a range of programs and services to support First Nations employees. We invite people with disability to work with us, and we welcome anyone who identifies as linguistically, culturally and/or gender diverse, people from the LGBTQIA+ community and people of any age.

About the department/unit

The Women's Graduate Midwives – Team Care, are afforded the opportunity to gain midwifery experience across the continuum of maternity services including, antenatal complex care, birth centre and postnatal care through a rotational program. The post-graduate program may offer a rotational opportunity across maternity and Women's Emergency Care settings for a limited number of participants, subject to service capacity, applicant experience and organisational requirements. Prior RN experience in ICU, critical care, emergency or similar would be essential for applicants for this pathway.

Position purpose

The Graduate Midwife will be in the first year of professional practice as a registered midwife participating in the Graduate Midwife Program. The Program provides the opportunity for the newly registered midwife to develop confidence in the provision of care to women during pregnancy, birth and the postnatal period. The Graduate will be provided with formal professional development days, structured rotations, clinical support and orientation into each clinical area. The Graduate will be known as a team midwife and allocated to one of the three teams as defined by the Team Care Model of care at The Women's.

The Graduate is responsible for providing care to women and their families within a multidisciplinary team environment, working collegially with other health professionals. The Graduate works under the leadership of a more senior staff member, usually Associate Unit Manager, to achieve the best possible outcomes for women, mothers and infants in their care and ensures that services provided are:

- Women-focused to respect the rights, needs and expectations of the childbearing woman
- Integrated and consistent
- Evidence-based
- Supportive of a learning environment for all colleagues

Key responsibilities

Clinical practice

- Appropriately assess, plan, implement, evaluate, and contemporaneously document midwifery and neonatal care
- Advocate for the concepts of continuity of care and comprehensive midwifery led care
- Maintain a professional approach and respect the needs of women, visitors and other health professionals
- Maintain an awareness of team clinical outcomes and provide feedback/information to the Team AUMs (and Maternity Unit Managers) on a regular basis
- Demonstrate a commitment to Baby Friendly Hospital Initiative (BFHI) re-accreditation processes
- Use of the Women's electronic medical record (EMR) where required to fulfil the duties of this position
- Any other duties as required that meet relevant standards and recognised practice

Communication and teamwork

- Attend and participate in team meetings and other service meetings as required to assist in maintaining clear lines of communication and information exchange within the team
- Actively participate in multidisciplinary handovers
- Provide professional and clinical support to colleagues

Find the exceptional in your everyday.

The Women's, where you belong.

- Provide orientation/preceptoring/mentoring to staff as delegated
- Be approachable and receptive to the provision of clinical assistance when required and/or requested

Quality, safety and improvement

- Provide appropriate responses to all relevant emergency situations and take responsibility for ensuring that all compulsory emergency training competencies have been completed
- Ensure all incidents and/or near misses are identified and reported, promoting reflection and learning within a supportive, no-blame environment
- Participate in the development of quality improvement activities as requested

Learning and development

- Support projects (including research projects) within the team
- Remain consistently committed to own ongoing professional development and ensure all mandatory training and competency requirements are met
- Support the training/education needs of team members by facilitating opportunities for learning

Key Performance Indicators (KPI's)

KPI's are how you will be measured as meeting the responsibilities of the position. These will be set with you as part of your Performance Development Plan within the first six months of your appointment to the position.
