Reporting to:	Maternity Team Leaders

About us

Located in Melbourne on the traditional lands of the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin Nation, the Royal Women's Hospital is Australia's first and leading specialist hospital for women and newborns. We offer expertise in maternity services, neonatal care, gynaecology, assisted reproduction, women's health and cancer services. We advocate for women's health in areas that have long been overlooked or stigmatised, including abortion, endometriosis, family violence, female genital mutilation, menopause, women's mental health, sexual assault and substance use in pregnancy.

Our vision, values and declaration

The Women's vision, values and declaration reflect our promise to our patients and consumers, and articulate our culture and commitment to our community and each other.

Our vision is 'Creating healthier futures for women and babies'. Our values are:

Courage

Passion

Discovery

Respect

The Women's declaration reflects the principles and philosophies fundamental to our hospital, our people and our culture.

- We are committed to the social model of health
- We care for women from all walks of life
- We recognise that sex and gender affect health and healthcare
- We are a voice for women's health
- We seek to achieve health equity

Our commitment to inclusion

The Women's is committed to creating and maintaining a diverse and inclusive environment which enhances staff and consumer wellbeing, and nurtures a sense of belonging. We strongly encourage anyone identifying as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander to join us. We offer a range of programs and services to support First Nations employees. We invite people with disability to work with us, and we welcome anyone who identifies as linguistically, culturally and/or gender diverse, people from the LGBTQIA+ community and people of any age.

About the department/unit

The Women's maternity model of care offers four care pathways for women provided by the obstetricians, registrars, junior doctors, midwives and allied health team. The pathways include:

- Shared Maternity Care with affiliated GP/ midwives
- Caseload - One-to-one midwifery care
- Team Maternity - multidisciplinary care
- Maternal Fetal Medicine (MFM) – comprising of MFM doctors with midwifery support and boutique clinics including WADS, PTL, RMC, FMU, Diab, PMC, and MPU.

The RWH Midwifery Service includes three multidisciplinary teams that provide care for medium and low risk pregnancies, and the maternal fetal medicine program that provides care for high-risk pregnancies. Each of the three multidisciplinary teams provide care for approximately 1900 - 2000 of the women booked for maternity care at the hospital. The fetal maternal medicine program provides care for 1000-1200 women.

Maternity Services Team Midwives cover the whole pregnancy and childbirth continuum of care from antenatal care, birth and postnatal care, through to home-based visits. Our ultimate goal is that every Midwife has the ability to work in a variety of settings within this model. There is an expectation that all Team Midwives be confident and competent in at least two clinical areas of maternity services. No Team Midwife will work in one clinical area exclusively.

Position purpose

The RUSOM assists with the provision of woman-centred, family oriented, evidence based care within a multidisciplinary team environment. Under the delegation and supervision of a Midwife, the RUSOM works collegially with other health professionals to achieve the best possible outcomes for mothers and infants in their care.

Elements of direct and indirect patient care will be delegated in accordance with the professional judgement of the supervising midwife and in accordance with the level of achieved educational preparation and assessed competence of the individual RUSOM in line with an approved duties list.

The RUSOM will be allocated to a specific ward/unit within the maternity service and will work in accordance with the specific ward/unit duty list as directed by the Midwife.

A RUSOM is:

- Currently completing second to third year of Bachelor of Midwifery.
- Currently completing second to fourth year of the dual degree Bachelor of Nursing and Midwifery.

As with all midwives working at the Women's, the RUSOM will provide services that are:

- Women focused to respect the rights, needs and expectations of the childbearing woman.
- Integrated and consistent.
- Evidence-based.
- Supportive of a learning environment for all colleagues.

Key responsibilities

Inclusiveness improves our service to our community and promotes engagement amongst employees.
- Commitment to a woman centered approach in the provision of health care and services, consistent with the employing organisation's values, mission and vision. It is expected that you demonstrate the core values of woman centered care in every interaction with women and their babies, carers and colleagues.
- A RUSOM will complete performance appraisals/reviews in accordance with hospital policy.
- Maintains a professional approach and respects the needs of women, visitors and other health professionals.

Communication and teamwork

- Attend and participate in team meetings and other service meetings as required to assist in maintaining clear lines of communication and information exchange within the team.
- Be approachable and receptive to the provision of clinical assistance when required and/or requested.

Quality, safety and improvement

- Provide appropriate responses to all relevant emergency situations and take responsibility for ensuring that all compulsory emergency training competencies have been completed.
- Ensure all incidents and/or near misses are identified and reported, promoting reflection and learning within a supportive, no-blame environment.
- Participate in the development of quality improvement activities as requested.
- Function in accordance with legislation and the organisation's local policies and procedures, conducting practice within a professional and ethical framework to deliver delegated care.
- Adherence to infection control policies and procedures

Learning and development

- Remain consistently committed to own ongoing professional development and ensure all mandatory training and competency requirements are met.
- Support the training/education needs of team members by facilitating opportunities for learning
